

"Hey Tortoise! Where shall we go? I'm so excited!"

One day soon, Hedgehog and Tortoise will be able to hug once more and they'll make sure that they have lots of adventures and make lots of wonderful memories together.

When they do, Hedgehog is going to write a letter to Tortoise and invite him to share a day out with him to his most favourite place ever!

You be Hedgehog.....

Write an exciting invitation to Tortoise. Don't forget to tell him: where you're going, why it will be so great, what he will see there, all the exciting things you'll do and enjoy together. Tell him what he'll love about it, what he might eat or smell there and why you think it will be the most perfect day out. Don't forget to tell him that you are excited to go there together. You want to make him feel very excited about looking forward to this super special trip.

Write some of your ideas here. Better still, have a chat with someone about them and then makes some notes. Talking about your ideas first is really useful.
